The Lucy Daniels Foundation was established in 1989 by Dr. Lucy Daniels Inman, a Raleigh psychologist, writer and mother committed to helping others restore their creativity through psychoanalytic treatment. A private, non-profit organization, the Foundation acts as a catalyst to bring together artists, scholars, mental health professionals and the general public.

Lucy Daniels Inman, Ph.D. is founder and Executive Director of the Lucy Daniels Foundation and founder of the Lucy Daniels Preschool, a psychoanalytically-based preschool in Cary, North Carolina. A clinical psychologist with a private practice in Raleigh, North Carolina, Dr. Inman has been named a Distinguished Friend of Psychoanalysis by the American Psychoanalytic Association. She is also a fiction writer published under the name Lucy Daniels.

Alan J. Stern, Ph.D. is Director of Research and Education for the Lucy Daniels Foundation. He is a certified psychoanalyst with a private practice in Chapel Hill and an adjunct professor in Political Science at the University of North Carolina. Dr. Stern is a Training Analyst for the UNC-Duke Psychoanalytic Education Program.

Heather Craige, MSW, Clinical Coordinator, is the Foundation's contact person for program applicants and grantees. She is a clinical social worker with a private psychotherapy practice in Raleigh, North Carolina and is a candidate of the UNC-Duke Psychoanalytic Education Program.
